A complete history of London in one diagram or, a meditation on how everything is connected, and how, in the end, it's all about the cats Home of the Excalibur Estate of prefabs, built Performed at at least two theatres in... platforms...one step towards becoming a.. Whose early film The Lodger was based on the methods of... Full of street art, including cats Lent his name Builder of... Regularly attacked the Anglo-Saxon settlement of... Founded St Olave, Hart Street, parish church of diarist... Adjectival names for the 19th century city (Victorian and Dickensian). They met the journalistic career of... great, great, great, great, grandfather of both... Twice Prime Minister at... Joseph Cubitt Focus of the Rhyming slang for Flying Squad, predecessor of... Architect of... Victoria execution site of... on the same Shortly moving to... Used as a police station by... Buried in... Father and predecessor of... Location of... one hand. Much like after being thrown Code phrase used the statue on... helped fight successor of. the death of... horse at... St Paul's Cathedral Father of... Home of Kaspar, Number 1 London, home of... a ceramic cat who Station (Tate Modern Richard Gilbert Scott Christ Church Red phone box the old £5 note at Architect of... the same time the A Hard Day's Shelly courted Mary Godwin the sound of... a statue called back... War of the Worlds Depicted in a famous drawing Contains remains of featured in Architect of... an amphitheatre from.... Oranges and Lemons Dick van Dyke." Contains remains from... statue of... The Roman city of Alien Invasion Destroyed ~60 AD by... Sister suffragette, Attack the Block His statue stands Once owned Organised the first FA Cup in... a shop behind... Supposedly buried beneath Opened 1863, the the first shaft, same year as the Once imprisoned Based at... area just after the Metropolitan Railway, Struck down Wat Tyler to opening of a station at... later part of the... end the... Wembley Stadium Whose rival to the Eiffel Tower was only part-built, then heads were displayed